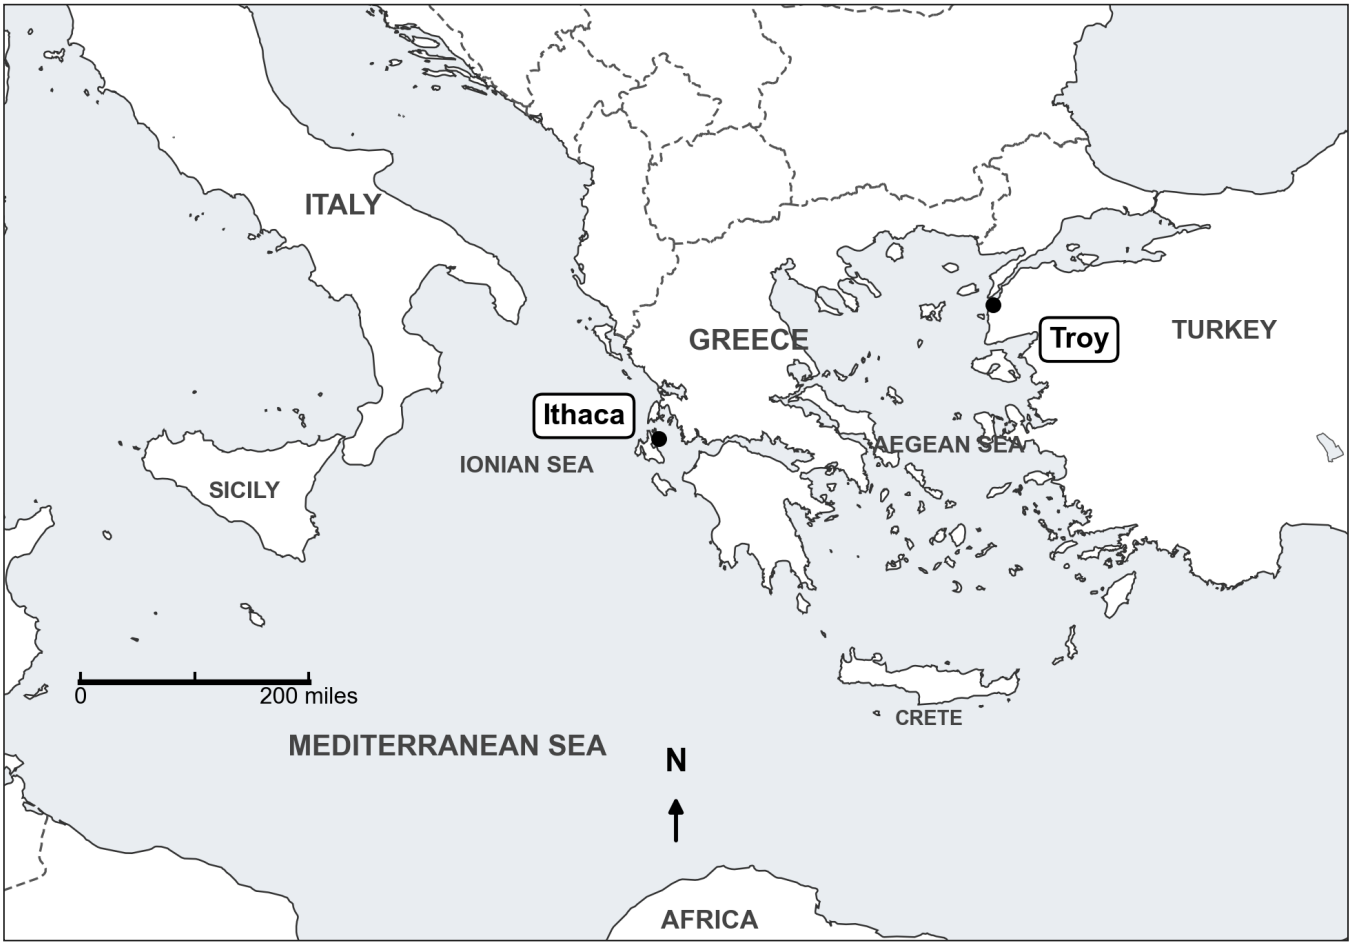
Map of Odysseus's Journey Home

This is a real map, and Troy and Ithaca are marked on it. Number the adventures in the order they happened. Then draw a wandering route from Troy to Ithaca, with a small picture for each stop.



Troy and Ithaca are real places. The other stops come from the myth. People have guessed they were near Sicily, Italy or North Africa, but no one knows for sure.

Number the adventures in order, 1 to 8:

- ☐ The Cyclops' cave: a one-eyed giant traps the men
- ☐ Circe's island: a witch turns men into pigs
- ☐ The Sirens: a lovely song that wrecks ships
- ☐ The Wind King's island: a bag full of storm winds
- ☐ Scylla and Charybdis: a monster and a whirlpool
- ☐ The Sun God's island: cattle the men must not eat
- ☐ The Lotus-Eaters: a fruit that makes men forget home
- ☐ Calypso's island: a goddess will not let him go

Teacher Key: Map of Odysseus's Journey Home

1 The Lotus-Eaters, 2 the Cyclops' cave, 3 the Wind King's island, 4 Circe's island, 5 the Sirens, 6 Scylla and Charybdis, 7 the Sun God's island, 8 Calypso's island. The route starts at Troy and ends at Ithaca and should pass the stops in this order. Any wandering path is fine, since no one knows where the islands were. (Some versions add more stops, like the giants' harbor or the Land of the Dead. They are not on this list.)
