Jack and his mother were very poor.
All they had was one old cow.

Jack swapped the cow for five magic beans.

“Beans? You silly boy!” said Mother. She threw them out of the window.

In the night, a giant beanstalk grew.
Jack climbed up, up, up!

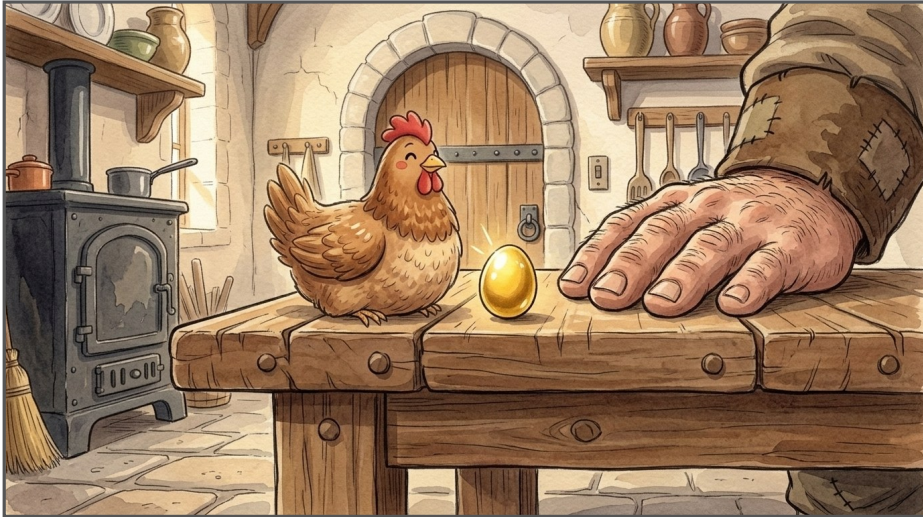

At the top was a castle. “Quick,
hide!” said the giant’s wife.

“Fee-fi-fo-fum! I smell the blood of an Englishman!”

The giant fell asleep. Jack took a bag of gold.

The next time, Jack took the hen that laid golden eggs.

Then Jack took the golden harp.
“Master! Master!” it cried.

Jack chopped down the beanstalk.
And they lived happily ever after.
