Jen's Stuck Pot

Jen had a stem for a pot. But the pot was stuck in the wet mud. It was still. "I must get this pot to stand up," she said.

Jen still had to tug and tug. She got a big, stiff stick. "This is a big help," Jen said.

She set the stick on a rock and got the pot on it. The pot did not stop its up and down jig. She got a step in to get a good grip.

With one last big push, the pot sat up. It was not stuck! "At last!" Jen said. Now she can pop in her stem.
