Pip's Frog Painting

Pip the pig had a plan. His plan was to print a big green frog on a brick. But his fresh green ink was on a tall shelf.

His best brush was up on the shelf. Pip could not get to it. Pip sat and had a big think. "I will try a trick," he said.

Pip ran to his den and got his red truck. He set the truck by the shelf and got on top. From the truck, he got the brush.

A drip of green ink fell on the rug. "Oh no," said Pip. He got his brick and did a print of a glad frog.
