

Seth's Night at Camp

Seth went to camp on the big hill. He took his best pal, a dog named Gus.

It was late at night. Seth set up a big green tent.

He shut the flap up tight. Gus got on a plush mat to rest.

Then, Seth heard a quick snap out by the tent.

He had a slight fright. What might it be? Was it a big red fox? Gus let out a huff.

"I hope we do not have to fight," Seth whispered. He got a bright light from his bag.

He let the tent flap open just a bit. He held the light up high.

It was just a small fox kit! It had stepped on a stick. Seth let out a sigh. "We are all right, Gus," he said.