Chip was at camp. It was cold, and he felt a bad chill.

"I must chop a bunch of logs," said Chip.

He hit the logs with his ax. Chop, chop! Chip grabbed the logs and set them in a pit. He lit a match.

The logs got hot. Chip sat on a bench. The hot red glow hit his chest and chin.

"This is so much better," said Chip.

His pal Len sat with him to chat.
